JULY 4TH PAGEANT ATTRACTS INTEREST

Communities of North Mississippi Planning to Send Young Lady to Compete for Title of "Miss North Mississippi" at Pageant Depicting Progress of This Section at Grenada Fair Grounds.

Contests are being started all over North Mississippi in an effort to select the ideal girl who will preside as queen at a pageant depicting the possibilities and resources of that section of the state, being put on at the Grenada Fair Grounds Thursday, July 4th, at 8 o'clock p. m. The queen will have bestowed upon her an honor that has never been placed upon a young woman in this state before, the title of "Miss North Mississippi" and with it a medal upon which will be engraved her name with date and title of queen. Great stress is being placed on the selection of girls representing the various communities in that they are not selected for beauty alone but that they must have those traits and characteristics that go to make up the typical North Mississippi girl. From interest already manifested by the different towns much rivalry will be experienced and the electing of "Miss North Mississippi" at the pageant will be a big event in itself. The queen will be electd by acclamation, the applause being judged by competent and disinterested judges selected from visitors unknown to the participants.

Talent is being imported to take part in the pageant from other parts of the state and also from other states. Various big businesses are helping the boosting by furnishing small programs that blend into the main program, these programs being put on by professionals brought here from Memphis, Jackson and Atlanta. A chorus of twenty-four girls selected for their beauty and loveliness will dance a welcome to the thousands of visitors expected to attend. Grenada will open wide her arms on that date in an effort to show hospitality to the throng in that true southern fashion for which the "City Beautiful" is noted. The North Mississippi Fair Association is endeavoring to awaken the people of this and other communities to the fact that North Mississippi is fast becoming one of the leading sections of the state in dairying, manufacturing and lumber milling and that it has always been a leader in education and religion.

"THE BROADWAY MELODY" PLEASES ALL SEEING IT

"The Broadway Melody", the all talking, singing and dancing musical comedy hit that is now showing at the Grenada Theatre, has been giving the best of entertainment to capacity crowds at every performance. The picture is one of the best ever to be shown here and, by all means, all lovers of the motion picture and of the stage should witness it before its last performance here tomorrow (Saturday) night.

Lovers of music will especially enjoy the songs, "You Were Meant for Me", "Broadway Melody" and the "Wedding of the Painted Doll", the last of which is in technicolor and produced on an elaborate scale.

"The Broadway Melody" has truly set a pattern for other "talkies" to follow. It has completely revolutionized all previous conceptions of talking pictures and one who witnesses its presentation forms the opinion that the "talkies" may supplant the regular theatre at some time in the near future.

STATE PLANT BOARD ISSUES FIRST BOLL WEEVIL REPORT

A. & M. College, Miss., June 3.—A heavy boll weevil infestation in Mississippi is indicated in the first report on weevil conditions in 1929 just issued by the State Plant Board. Although only 47 farms in 21 counties are covered by the report, they are well distributed over the state and give a fair indication of the abundance of weevils. Over 50% of the farms are infested, as compared with about 30% on June 10, 1928, which was the first report issued last year.

The average number per acre this year—230 on all farms examined, and 450 on the infested farms—is also much larger than past records indicate. Several reports showed 3 to 4 weevils per stalk, while on one farm in Stone County 7 weevils were found on a single stalk. Of 30 farms in 12 southern and central counties—Choctaw, Clark, George, Holmes, Jones, Lauderdale, Madison, Neshoba, Oktibbeha, Perry, Stone, and Wayne—weevils were present on 21, with as many as 3150 weevils per acre on one farm in Choctaw County. In sharp contrast, weevils were found on only 3 out of 19 farms in 9 delta and northern counties—Alcorn, Bolivar, Carroll, Grenada, Marshall, Montgomery, Tallahatchie, Washington, and Yalobusha. Two farms were examined in Grenada County but weevils were found on neither. Cotton in the northern part of the state is very small in most cases. Lice are reported abundant in some fields.

Although weather conditions will largely govern the amount of weevil damage, the plant board states that weevils are already abundant enough in many counties to cause great loss with normal weather, and is urging farmers to provide themselves with calcium arsenate and dusting machinery. The fact that an outbreak of the southern grassworm also threatens should cause farmers to delay no longer in securing poison.

BUSINESS CLUB CHANGES MEETING DAY TO FRIDAY

Effective today, Friday, June 7th, the Young Men's Business Club will hold its semi-monthly meetings on Friday instead of Thursday as has been its custom since its organization a year ago. The meeting today will be held in the basement of the Methodist Church.

L. J. Doak, elected president of the organization at the last meeting, will take office at the meeting and many things of importance to the club are to be discussed. A full attendance is urged.

Rotary Club Hears Public Health Talk

Rockefeller Foundation Representative, Head of Work in Sunflower County, Shows Progress Made during Past Twenty Years.

Dr. J. H. Janney, of Indianola, head of the Rockefeller Foundation Institute doing public health work in Sunflower county, addressed the Grenada Rotary Club at its meeting Tuesday noon. In attempting to show the great good accomplished by public health work in the past twenty years, he cited statistics compiled by one of the nation's great life insurance companies which, he said, had spent millions of dollars in public health education. He added that company officials felt more than repaid for their investment since they had received two dollars for every one they had spent in bringing health facts and figures before the public.

Dr. Janney showed the worth, in dollars and cents, of a human being, giving the cost of rearing a child from infancy to 18 years of age and stating the value of the person at that time in terms of potential income. He showed the startling loss in money, figuring each life at its estimated worth, from deaths caused by preventable diseases in all ages. He presented figures to show the remarkable decrease in the mortality rate during the past two decades and said that public health work and physicians deserve the credit for this improvement in health conditions. Dr. Janney stated that health work was carried on to improve the physical conditions of all ages and that with the cooperation of the public still greater things could be accomplished.

The speaker's remarks, which made a deep impression on his hearers, were thoroughly enjoyed and the club is grateful to Dr. Janney for the information given it.

C. B. Huggins, baby member of the club, was given a brief but forceful charge by C. H. Calhoon and, on account of other things on the program, the new member's response was very brief. His manner indicated that he had a long speech prepared and it was with difficulty that he refrained from delivering it.

Homer J. Williams, who has been out of the club for some months on account of ill health, was again added to the membership roll Tuesday and he was gladly welcomed by his fellow members.

Guests at the luncheon were Rotarians Dave Cowart and Tiny Henson, of Charleston, Rev. J. A. Smith, of Hattiesburg, and Dick Feltus, of Vicksburg, and Dr. T. J. Brown, Rev. J. H. Holder and E. E. Penn, of Grenada.

State Auditing Department Report Shows Grenada County Bonds Now Outstanding

Beat One Owes Now, Together with What It Owes on Issue with Three Other Districts, Over Six Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars—Grenada and Beat One Taxpayers Should Give Serious Consideration.

During the latter part of the summer of the year 1927, the State Auditing Department sent a man to Grenada to make an audit of the books of Grenada county. The audit was completed as of date of Sept. 30, 1927, and a copy thereof filed with the board of supervisors of the county. The report was most valuable from many angles. It showed what the county had, what it owed and many other valuable things that give a clear insight into the administration of the financial affairs of the county. The following table taken from that report shows bonds issued, those outstanding and the required payments on each and every bond issue. The reader will observe that the total issue for the entire county was $1,063,000 of which $973,000 was at that time still unpaid.

A Further Mortgage On Your Home, Farm And All

(Editorial)

The electorate of separate road district one, including the town of Grenada, is asked to place an additional mortgage on their homes, farms and everything else by voting sixty-five thousand dollars more bonds, road bonds, June 29, as will be seen by an official order which appears elsewhere in The Sentinel.

A petition, containing the required number of citizens, was properly drawn and filed with the board of supervisors, asking for the hardsurfacing, grading, etc., of the road that leads from Grenada to Spring Hill church and thence to the Carroll County line and, under the conditions, as we understand, the board had no other recourse except to order the election.

We appreciate the desire of the citizens who travel that road more than any other for its improvement, but in our judgment the condition of the finances of district one is such as to raise the warning hand against this proposed expenditure at this time. In our judgment to issue the bonds would be a most questionable act of sound business.

Of course it may be said that roads have been built into other communities and in other directions. That is true. And it may be the misfortune of the good people who reside on this road and who are asking for these bonds that they didn't get their road when others were getting theirs. But we should have learned that all cannot be first and that somebody has got to be the last; that somebody must learn that there is wisdom in waiting many, many times. Patience is one of the most noble virtues.

In the table which precedes this editorial, it will be seen that on September 30, 1927, the total outstanding bonds of road district one, were $246,000,000. Since that date, and according to the auditor's report, there has been paid on these bonds enough to cut them down to $236,000, assuming in this statement that the payments have been made since that were listed to be paid in the auditor's report.

On the same date, the report showed outstanding $219,000 in general county bonds, more than 60 per cent of which must be paid by property owners in district one. Besides the two hundred and nineteen thousand dollars just above mentioned, there were outstanding $258,000 in bonds issued by beats 1, 2, 3 and 4, of which more than 60 per cent must be paid by property owners in district one. Of course there have been some bonds taken up since then, but for the purposes of this editorial, it will be sufficiently accurate to say that property owners of district one have written their John Henrys to $665,000 bonds now outstanding. On September 30, 1927, the outstanding bond issues of the entire county, including roads, bridges and schools, were $973,000,000.

According to official figures furnished by the city recorder, there are bonds outstanding against the city of Grenada to the amount of $339,000. This, added to the six hundred sixty-five thousand dollars in bonds now outstanding against district 1, makes a total of $1,004,000—Grenada and the property owners of road district one now owe this amount in bonds, or nearly 17 per cent of the total assessed valuation of the property of the whole county, and considerably over 20 per cent of the assessed valuation of the property in district one.

As a newspaper, we feel it our duty to give the electorate of this district the facts. We are showing them what they owe, and they ought to know that every bond issued means another mortgage on their home, on their farm, on their stocks of goods, on their live stock and everything else in the wide world they possess.

Do not fail to remember the wails that go up at taxpaying time. For the year 1928 the county levy for Grenada, in the city, was 35 mills and the city of Grenada levy, 32 mills, both nearly 7 per cent, more than the legal rate of interest in the state, which is 6 per cent. The levy on the property of the citizenship outside of Grenada, in district one, for the year 1928, was 36½ mills.

The more taxes we pile up, the more overhead expenses our merchants have, hence the more difficult it is for them to sell goods at prices which they would like and which readily appeal to the trade.

There is a stopping time for all things, and this is, in our judgment, an opportune time to take a rest on issuing more bonds for district one.

We speak in no selfish spirit, but we believe we are speaking in the interests of the citizens and taxpayers of district one, indeed of the entire county.

NAME OMITTED FROM LIST OF THOSE WHO WILL CLOSE

Through a typographical error, the name of Doak Hardware Co. was omitted from the list carried in last week's Sentinel of those who are to close on Thursday afternoons during the summer months. This concern's name was on the list but it, along with the great majority of the business houses of Grenada, closed its doors yesterday at 12:30 p. m. to give its employes a half-holiday.

Revival Services To Close Sunday Night

Soul-Stirring Sermons of Hattiesburg Divine Reach Hearts of Congregations at Meeting Being Held in Grenada Methodist Church.

The series of services which began the early part of last week at the Methodist church are still in progress, and will continue through Sunday night, next, according to announcement.

The good pastor, Rev. J. H. Holder, has seemed a bit disappointed that the attendance has not been all he hoped for, and on several occasions he has tenderly reminded the members of his church that he feared they were not using the services as they should and that too often have too many Methodists been absent. It is hard often for one to see the viewpoint of the other fellow and it is more than difficult to understand in many instances the problems that confront one's dearest friends and closest neighbors. This is a day when problems of business are pushing themselves like an avalanche on nearly everybody—it is too much a day of "root hog or die", a condition that pulls men away from the sweeter and more refined things of life to stand face to face with the exacting demands of twentieth century progress.

But, in view of the fact that so many things have recently demanded attention and that just after schools close, nearly every one to some extent at least feels that a little extra relaxation is due him, the attendance has been good. People who think seriously at all are often thinking more about the church and what they owe their Maker and the love of God as exemplified in the life of Jesus than they are credited with doing.

Dr. J. A. Smith, who has been doing the preaching, has been delivering some extraordinary fine sermons. He is a scholarly man. He uses the English language with pleasing and telling effect. His preaching has been sound and appealing, and he has been taking the things of God and showing them unto his hearers. There is nothing of the sensational about Dr. Smith. He plays no spectacular stunts in the pulpit. He gives every indication of being deeply concerned about the Master's work and to be more than serious in getting men and women to live and act by the standards as laid down in Holy Writ. When he has used an illustration to enforce a discourse, it has been one that appealed to the serious and sacred in the minds of his hearers. All of his themes have been along the line of duty to God and Christian character building. The man or woman who has been sitting under his voice during the past ten days and who has not experienced a refreshing of soul, has been unfortunate and must have been thinking of things far, far away from what God would have them think. Mr. Smith has emphasized most happily the responsibilities and duties of citizenship and has not failed to remind the more prominent of the community that a sort of double responsibility rests upon them to observe the common law and to square their lives with the beautiful teachings of Christ.

Several have already united with the church and it is understood that quite a number have announced their purpose to join before the close of the services.

Mrs. Smith, wife of Dr. Smith, has been leading the worship with some beautiful solos at every service. The local choirs have been furnishing the music and they have acquitted themselves well and this paper thinks that it suits the average revival a great deal better to use local talent wherever possible in the singing.

WALKER WOOD ADVISES IN REGARD TO STOCK BUYING

"'Wild-cat' stock buying has been, and will continue to be, an avenue through which a number of our citizens will be relieved of their good hard-earned money each year," says Walker Wood, secretary of state.

"Every few days this department receives a complaint from some unfortunate party who has bought 'wild-cat' stock, principally through mail solicitations. However, from the number of inquiries we are receiving about corporations that are offering stock for sale, it is evident that our people are making closer investigations

41ST GRENADA FAIR TO BE HELD IN FALL

Trustees Elect Officers and Make Plans for Annual Exposition—Honeycutt Named President — County Gives $2000 and City Has Fair Donation under Consideration. Murphy Shows Booked.

Grenada will have its annual fair this fall. Since a meeting of the officers and trustees of the fair association some weeks ago when most of the officers tendered their resignations and it seemed that the fair this year would not be held, the opinion has prevailed generally that the annual exposition would be abandoned. But at a meeting of the trustees held Thursday of last week a new note of optimism was struck, new officers were elected and plans were laid immediately to make the 1929 event as good as or better than any in the association's history.

Officers elected were H. L. Honeycutt, president, R. W. Jones and B. J. Anderson, vice presidents, and B. C. Adams, treasurer. S. M. Cain, who has served the association so faithfully as secretary for a number of years and who has made such a splendid record in that capacity, was prevailed upon to accept a re-election to that important post.

Dates selected for holding the 41st fair and racing meet were October 21st to 26th, inclusive. A contract with the D. D. Murphy Shows to furnish the midway attractions already has been made and negotiations for other attractions are under way. Fair officials are confident that this year's fair will more than live up to the reputation established by its predecessors and that it will go down in history as another great advertisement for Grenada county and north Mississippi.

The board of supervisors, at its June meeting held Monday, voted to appropriate $2000 to the fair association and the city council has under consideration the question of the city's donation.

FARM ASSOCIATION HOLDS MOST ENCOURAGING MEET

The Grenada County Farm Development Association had the most encouraging and reassuring meeting Tuesday that it has ever had. Many interested farmers were present and each and all seemed more than delighted at what had been done by the association and what they were succeeding in doing with their cows. The sales of milk showed fine results. W. C. Curle, agent, made a most gratifying detailed report of his work which showed what he had done each and every day of the past month. It was decided to accommodate those farmers asking it that some additional, tiptop cows be purchased.

WILL YOUR CHILD BE AN ASSET TO HIS SCHOOL?

The Parent Teachers Association is very anxious that he shall be.

We are planning a physical examination for every child who is to enter school next September, for the first time, at the Grenada Clinic next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from two to four o'clock. This examination is free. The doctors are doing this work for the Parent Teachers Association for what it may mean to the school and community. If you have a child this age won't you see that it has the benefit of this examination. The summer round-up of the children is one of the phases of work carried on by the national congress of parents and teachers.

The first thought of this organization is always the child's health.

The local saw mill owned and operated by J. L. McCaulla, six miles southwest of Grenada, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday night, June 2nd. The loss was estimated at about seven hundred dollars, including lumber and logs, with no insurance.

The fire was caused by strong wind that caught burning sawdust and carried it under mill.

SENATOR GLASS' BILL.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia has introduced a bill in the United States senate which provides for a tax of 5 per cent on all bonds sold on the stock market that are sold within 60 days after their purchase. The passage of this bill would certainly place a crimp in the caudal appendage of Wall Street stock brokers and would yield an abundance of revenue. Furthermore it would discourage the dumping of billions of dollars into the laps of Wall Street money changers thereby preventing drawing of the money from all parts of the country which in some measure strangles business in all sections beside that where the money dumping touches. Of course the stock gambler objects to Senator Glass' bill.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

Railway Taxes

The increased taxation of all the railroads in recent years can be illustrated by some comparisons of the 1913 and 1928 taxes of the Illinois Central System.

The taxes of the Illinois Central System amounted in 1913 to $3,370,000 and in 1928 to $12,582,000. This was at the rate of $9,233 a day in 1913 and at the rate of $34,377 a day in 1928.

These taxes were $549 for each mile of route operated in 1913 and $1,796 for each mile operated in 1928.

They consumed 21 per cent of the total passenger revenue of the Illinois Central System in 1913. They took 49 per cent of it in 1928.

They came to $401 for every million ton-miles of freight service performed in 1913. For every million ton-miles performed in 1928 they were $802.

Every dollar paid to stockholders in 1913 was matched by a payment of 51 cents to tax collectors. Every dollar paid to stockholders in 1928 was matched by a payment of $1.19 to tax collectors.

Railway taxes have an important bearing upon railway rates. For instance, the increase in Illinois Central System taxes per mile of route from 1913 to 1928 amounted to more than one-half the revenue derived from all the grain, grain products, cotton, cottonseed, cottonseed products, tobacco and fresh vegetables transported by the Illinois Central System in 1928. Truly railway taxes are something for railway patrons to know about.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

President, Illinois Central System.

WANT OF BACKBONE AND JUDGMENT IN SHERIFFS.

Tennessee gets front page on mobbing a negro charged with attempted assault. The main proof, according to newspaper statements, was that when the lady regained consciousness, the first incoherent word she uttered was "Joe", and a negro by the name of Joe Bexley being nearby, was fixed upon as the guilty one. He may have been guilty. If he was, could any reasonable grounds be assigned that he would not have been promptly convicted?

Of course the provocation was great. There is no excuse in the wide world for rape, and those who commit it should understand by now that death is certain for the perpetrator; he deserves it.

But we are not talking about the heinousness of the crime; the rape of the law is what we are thinking of.

The sheriff of Gibson county Tennessee, did make a good dodge with the negro but he showed the want of good judgment and the proper backbone when he brought him back into the county where the crime was committed.

The majesty of the law must be made supreme if the lives and the liberty of the citizens who own and control the destiny of this land are to remain secure. We who talk and urge lawenforcement must observe the law.

In almost every case where a mob wreaks summary vengeance, it is because the sheriff is lacking in backbone and because he displays bad judgment.

The gathering together of well meaning men to see that punishment is inflicted in such cases is to be expected, but when an officer takes a solemn oath, he should do his dead level best to thwart the purposes of enraged men.

The mobbing of Stephens stands today as an indictment of the Jews, the populace stood by and looked on but made no move in the name of the law.

THE RAILROADS HAVE DONE THEIR BEST.

With one single exception, so far as our knowledge goes, the railroads of the country have done, and are still doing, their best to prevent deaths at railroad crossings. This one exception is that at some points there are cotton seed houses and often empty cars which prevent automobilists from seeing what is on the railroad track or observing an approaching train.

The railroads have eliminated many grade crossings. They have gone to great expense to do this. They are still further eliminating grade crossings. The Illinois Central Railroad bore half of the expense in erecting an overhead bridge across one of its lines in this county. The railroads have gone to no inconsiderable expense to send men up and down the land to preach care and caution in crossing railroad tracks.

But in spite of all this, people continue to "step on the gas" and to try to "beat the train". The death toll continues to mount higher and higher every year. Last year 27,500 people, many of them pure, helpless, little children, were ushered into eternity as a result of automobile accidents. This means that one person was killed in auto accidents every 19 minutes or 3 every 57 minutes.

Besides these, killed, the crippled and the maimed ran up to hundreds of thousands.

Common sense, care and caution are indispensable in everything and particularly should these characteristics be dominant in the mind of the one at the wheel in an automobile.

"Let us reason oftemperance and judgment".

THE SENTINEL'S SPLENDID EDITION

The Times congratulates our esteemed neighbor and contemporary, The Grenada Sentinel on the handsome twenty-four page special edition, issued last week under the direction and auspices of the ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Grenada Methodist Church.

The edition was aptly styled a "Church and Historical Edition," and while it was sponsored by this auxiliary to the Methodist church, yet the editorial and historical matter was by no means confined to any one church, but to all churches, and schools and to the city at large.

All of the matter, editorial, historical, advertising, and otherwise was either written or prepared under the direction of the ladies of the Missionary Society, and these good women, as well as Editor Lawrence, deserve a great deal of credit for their enterprise.—Winona Times, May 31.

THE DEBENTURE FEATURE OF FARM RELIEF.

We have reached the conclusion that about all the farmer may expect to reap from the debenture feature of the farm relief bill before congress is what he gets from its backwash. Debentures will be almost wholly issued to those who have the cotton after it passes out of the farmer's hands. The prime justification for debentures is that the tariff is doing for the manufacturers even more than that, hence let the farmers get to the swill trough, too. But the debenture feature will prove to be only a gesture and the farmers will continue to look on while others get the swill.

EDITOR HARRIS' SON KILLED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK.

We deeply sympathize with Edgar G. Harris, editor West Point Times-Leader, in the sorrow which comes to his home because of the death of his son which was caused by an automobile wreck only a few days ago. He was a bright and promising youth and we know that the father's heart bleeds because of this terrible affliction. May he find consolation in that Savior who said "suffer  children to come unto me".

EDITOR HARMON'S FATHER PASSES.

The sympathy of the press of the state goes out to Editor Harmon of the Hattiesburg American over the passing away of his father only a few days ago. Time alone will heal the wound of this affliction. The Hattiesburg Editor may take consolation in the fact that he showed the most beautiful and heavenly loyalty to his father during the days of his earthly pilgrimage, and that by an abiding faith in the love of Jesus, he can see that father in the by and by.

"Farm relief" is the Nation's slogan just now. A vast majority of the farmers have already been "relieved" of about all they ever had.

HE'S MY FRIEND

He may be six kinds of a liar,
He may be ten kinds of a fool
And also a wicked high flier.
Beyond any reason or rule;
There may be a shadow above him
Of ruin, and woes that impend
And I may not respect, but I like him,
"Because?" well, because, he's my friend.
I know he has faults by the millions,
But his faults are a portion to him,
I know that his record's vermillion—
He's far from a sweet Seraphim;
But he's always been straight with Yours Truly,
Ready to give or to lend,
And if he is wild and unruly,
I like him, because he's my friend.
I "knock" him, I know, but I do so
The same to his face as away,
And if others knock they're soon sorry
And wish they'd had nothing to say.
I never make diagrams of him,
No maps of his soul have I penned;
I don't analyze, I just love him,
"Because?" well, because he's my friend.

Lesson for June 9

THE STORY OF THE RECHABITES

(Temperance Lesson.)

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 35:1-19.

GOLDEN TEXT—We will drink no wine.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Strong to Do the Right.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Loyal to Do the Right.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Accepting a High Moral Standard.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Forms of Modern Persecution.

I. Who Were the Rechabites? (I Chron. 2:55).

They were Kenites of Hemath of the family of Jethro, Moses' father-in-law (Num. 10:29-32, cf. Judges 1:16). They entered Canaan with the Israelites. It seems that in order to preserve their identity they chose a nomadic life. Saul was considerate of them (I Sam. 15:6). They were characterized by:

1. Abstinence from strong drink (35:8). 2. Voluntary poverty (35:9). 3. A nomadic life (35:10).

II. The Rechabites Tested (vv. 1-5).

In the days of Jehoiachim the Lord charged Jeremiah to bring the Rechabites into the house of the Lord and test them regarding the drinking of wine. This he did in a place where the people might behold them, the aim being to teach Judah by example. The father of the Rechabites had given the command that they should not drink wine. Their filial obedience put to shame the children of Judah for their lack of obedience to their Heavenly Father. Jonadab, the father of the Rechabites, was only a man, but the commands which Judah disregarded were from the Almighty God, their Creator and Savior. They stood the test. They were loyal to the traditions of their fathers, even turning away from the luxury and degeneracy of Judah and maintaining their simple life. It is God's plan that every man be tested. Being a free agent, he can have character only through testing. It was for this reason that God placed Adam and Eve in Eden and permitted the devil to test them. While we should be concerned about the removal of temptation from men, we should be more concerned with teaching them their responsibility and showing them how to overcome it.

III. The Filial Loyalty of the Rechabites (vv. 6-11).

Though they were out of their own country and among a foreign people, they refused to drink wine, declaring they had been true to the instructions of Jonadab all their lives. Obedience to his instruction had been practiced by the men, women and children. It is a fine thing when children keep in mind their fathers and render obedience to their commands.

IV.—The Loyalty of the Rechabites Contrasted With the Disloyalty of Judah (vv. 12-16).

1. The appeal (vv. 13, 14). This appeal was made on the basis of the filial loyalty of the Rechabites. He reminded them that though their father had been dead a long time, the Rechabites remained loyal to his command. The prophet appealed to them not only on the ground of their example, but on the ground of God's earnest entreaty through the prophets who had come to them in person.

2. The ministry of the prophets. (vv. 15, 16). When the people failed to render obedience to God, He sent them prophets who pleaded with them to amend their ways by turning away from idols. Matthew Henry indicates the point of contrast somewhat as follows: (1) The Rechabites were obedient to one who was but a man. The Jews disobeyed the infinite and eternal God. (2) Jonadab was dead long since and could not know of their disloyalty or correct them concerning it. God is all-wise, lives forever and will punish the disobedient. (3) The Rechabites were never put in mind of their obligations, but God sent His prophets who rose up early to remind Judah. (4) Jonadab left the charge, with no one to bear the expense of the charge, but God gave Judah a goodly land and blessed them in it. (5) God never tied up His people to any hard task as did Jonadab, but God's people disobeyed Him, while the Rechabites obeyed their father.

V. Judgment Upon the Jews for Disobedience (v. 17).

God declared that He would bring judgment as pronounced against them.

VI. The Rechabites Rewarded for Their Loyalty (vv. 18, 19).

Because they had been true to the commands of Jonadab, they should have continued representation before God. Such is God's regard for filial obedience that He would not permit this act to go unrewarded.

An Oklahoma Mother Says:

"BLACK-DRAUGHT is a fine medicine to give to children. I use it for mine whenever I need to give them a laxative. They don't mind taking it when I make it into a tea, and it quickly relieves constipation and the bad symptoms which come from it. I can recommend it to other mothers, for I have found it useful in my home.

"When I was a child my mother gave it to me whenever I complained of not feeling well. I have always taken it for upset stomach and constipation. It is about the only medicine I have to take. A few doses of Black-Draught, now and then, keep my system in order. My husband takes it, too. I hardly see how I could keep house without Black-Draught. It has become a standby with us, in keeping the children and ourselves well."—Mrs. Luther Brumfield, Claremore, Okla.

McCharen-Gray.

Marriage vows were solemnized on last Sunday afternoon, June 2, at 3:30 o'clock between Miss Bessie Gray, of Holcomb, and Mr. Charles A. McCharen, of Oxford, the ceremony taking place at the home of Dr. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Grenada, who was the officiating minister.

The couple's engagement was announced several weeks ago and their wedding was to take place in Holcomb but the pair stole a march on their friends and quietly motored to Grenada for the rites in order to evade the showers of rice, old shoes and other things which they learned had been planned.

The bride is the accomplished and attractive daughter of Esquire and Mrs. W. K. Gray, prominent Grenada county citizens. She has been teaching school for several years and was a member of the faculty of the Grenada city schools for one year. She possesses many admirable traits of character and is well prepared to assume her new duties as wife and helpmeet.

Mr. McCharen is a member of a prominent family of Oxford where he has a wide circle of friends. He is employed in the United States postoffice there where his record of service is most excellent.

The Sentinel Sentinel joins in congratulations and best wishes.

Schroeder-Hamberlin.

Dr. W. E. Farr, pastor of the First Baptist Church, pronounced marriage vows on Thursday, May 30, between Mr. H. H. Schroeder and Miss Lillian Hamberlin, the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. H. H. Hamberlin, 836 N. McNeil Street, Memphis.

The bride resided for several years near Grenada and has a host of friends here who will be interested to learn of her marriage. Mr. Schroeder, who is employed by Sears, Roebuck & Co's. Memphis store, is regarded as an unusually capable business man.

The couple will continue to make their home in Memphis.

Messrs. F. R. Lickfold, Jr. and Charles Kenwright, of the 444 Tire & Battery Co., distributors for Copeland Electric Refrigerators, accompanied by Mr. R. C. Feltus, of Vicksburg, factory representative, conducted a sales and service school in Greenwood Wednesday for their representative there.

Fulton-O'Bannon.

A wedding of interest to people all over Grenada county occurred several days ago when Miss Ozella O'Bannon became the wife of Mr. G. R. Fulton. The Sentinel knows no details of the wedding.

Mr. Fulton was, until the first of January, employed as county demonstration agent of Grenada county and, until that date, his bride was county home demonstration agent. Both have a host of friends in the county who join with this paper in congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. Clifford Patterson left Thursday afternoon of last week for Chicago where he is doing Y. M. C. A. work in the association hotel. While in Chicago, Mr. Patterson, who is a talented musician, will continue his music studies.

The Sentinel is glad to be able to state that Lloyd Lott, youth who was shot through mistake by W. H. Crowder on Tuesday night of last week, is reported as doing splendidly. He is still in Grenada Hospital where it is hoped he will not have to remain long.

Miss Heard Lawrence is expected home today (Friday) from her school at Lake Providence, La. She has accepted an offer to return to Greenwood for the next session where she will again teach Latin and French.

Misses Cora and Dora Langley returned home Tuesday from Grenada College, where Miss Cora attended school. Miss Dora came by way of Grenada from Saltillo where she taught, to be with her sister at commencement.—Winston County (Louisville) Journal, May 31.

before buying stock than they have in the past.

"No citizen should buy stock that he is not thoroughly familiar with before he calls or writes the secretary of state's office to ascertain if the company offering stock for sale has qualified to do business in the state and complied with the laws, governing stock selling.

"There has been a noteworthy diversification in the form of securities that are being offered for sale in the state during the past year or two. The Blue Sky laws which regulate the sale of securities, were enacted in 1916, and placed under the administration of the secretary of state. Until recently, permits were scarcely ever sought to sell any form of security but stock in corporations. However, during the past year or two, applications have been received by the secretary of state for permits to sell various forms of securities, such as monthly installment savings bonds, collateral trust shares, common stock, trust shares, etc., these coming from New York, Kansas City and other northern cities, indicating that Mississippi offers a good field for these various promoting enterprises.

"It is worthy of note that the investing public is becoming better educated as to these various forms of investments, as indicated by the decrease in the number of inquiries received in my office, seeking to know the status of concerns selling the securities.

"If the people, interested in the purchase of securities, would apply at the office of the secretary of state for information before buying stock or other securities, sales of bogy stock would be minmized and the would-be buyers would save their money."

Campbell-Lambert.

A wedding, the announcement of which comes as a surprise to their many friends, was quietly solemnized in Greenwood, June 3, at 3:30 o'clock between Miss Lula Lambert, of Grenada, and Mr. A. Sharkey Campbell, Jr., of Webb. The impressive double ring ceremony was used, Father J. F. Clerico officiating. Only members of the two families and a few intimate friends were present.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lambert. She received her education at Grenada High School and Grenada College, having been graduated from there this year. She has been been reared in a Christian home and those virtues which make a good wife and worthy helpmeet have been instilled into her. She is beautiful and charming in person and her gentle face reflects the sweet disposition she possesses.

The groom, who is engaged in business at Webb, was educated at the high school there and later attended Chicago Art Institute. He enjoys the confidence and esteem of all who know him.

For her wedding, the bride was beautifully dressed in a smart sand colored flat crepe with accesories to match. She carried a corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left for an automobile trip to Chicago, Kenosha, Madison, Detroit and places of interest in Canada. Mrs. Campbell's traveling suit was a pretty blue ensemble with harmonizing accessories. They will be at home to their friends in Webb after the middle of June.

The Sentinel wishes for them a long and happy life together.

WOMEN DRIVE 72 CHRYSLER 10,000 MILES WITH NO MISHAP

An unusual tribute to the stamina and ease of operation of Chrysler cars was paid by Mrs. Vivian W. Adams, wife of Major John Quincy Adams, United States Marine Corps, in a communication recently received by the Chrysler Sales Corporation, in which she vividly describes a 10,000 mile trip in a Chrysler "72" coupe through southern Europe, accompanied only by her friend, Mrs. Gertrude T. Baskin.

Desiring to visit parts of southern Europe unfrequented by the average tourist, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Baskin, against the advice of friends, left New York with a Chrysler coupe which had already covered 30,000 miles, with the intention of driving from Cadiz, Spain, to Turkey.

From the outset, the two women found the roads scarcely fit for motor car journey. They covered the first 1,200 miles from Madrid over the Pyrenees, at a time of the year when the heat in the mountains was terrific. Although the car had to labor up roads which seemed but goat trails, for hours on end, at no time were they forced to stop because of the motor becoming overheated.

Throughout Spain they encountered few motor cars and the natives of the villages and hamlets over which they passed were amazed not only by the fact that a woman was driving the automobile, but that any automobile could be built which a woman could operate.

From Madrid the couple drove through France to Paris, where after a two months' stay in which they improved their driving skill in the crowded traffic of the French metropolis, they set forth for Sofia, in the Balkans. For 1,359 miles they drove their Chrysler over roads belying description, but it was not until they had covered a total of 5,000 miles from their start at Cadiz, that they experienced their first tire trouble. At that, the trouble was not caused by road conditions, but by a gang of rowdies in a small village, who, enraged by the license on the car, cut one of the tires.

Through eleven different countries Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Baskin drove, finding the roads a little less terrible than the price of gasoline, which cost $1.50 a gallon in some places. Despite the road conditions, however, no mechanical difficulties were experienced, not even when they approached the Bulgarian frontier, which was entered through Dragoman Pass, a narrow gorge, not at all suitable for motoring. Over this stretch of road an army escort accompanied the two daring women, to protect them from bandits, reported lurking in the mountains.

Through Macedonia the intrepid women drivers proceeded, finding the 600 miles just before they reached Athens, through Salonika, the worst of the trip. Here the road was filled with ruts and made practically impassible by huge boulders which had descended from the mountain-side and which they were forced to roll out of the way before they could proceed.

At points these pathways turned narrow corners on the edge of precipices and a slight swerve would mean that the dauntless couple and their car would be dashed to death on the rocks beneath.

For four miles on the journey, while the pitiless sun beat down upon them, they were forced to drive in second, yet never once did the sturdy Chrysler motor overheat or fail to respond to Mrs. Adams' call for power.

In every village in which the car halted, curious throngs, at times the entire populace, surrounded the Chrysler coupe, examining it with interest, for in some of these places the inhabitants had never seen a self-propelled vehicle.

Eventually Athens was reached, and after several days the two women, who had braved the treacherous mountain trails and the dangers of the semi-civilized territory through which the roads took them, were incapacitated by slight attacks of dengue fever, which had the city in its grip. On their recovery they drove over similar roads to Adrianopole, on the Turkish border, with the intention of crossing the border and touring through Turkey. The fact that duty of $600 was demanded changed the minds of Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Baskin, and they changed their route, driving through Bulgaria to Rumania, after paying a fee of $15 to cross the river Danube in a ferry boat, a charge of $1 a minute for the short journey.

The roads in Rumania were a great improvement over any they had traveled and as a consequence they met many motorists, most of whom, Mrs. Adams stated, were driving Chryslers.

After reaching their original objective, the Chrysler "72" coupe was headed west and the two women proceeded over good roads through Hungary, Austria and France back to Paris, after having consumed five months in their tour and having covered 10,000 miles.

Badly Run-Down

"Six years ago, I was very much run-down," says Mrs. Olympia Kight, of Lovett, Ga. "I did not sleep well, and was weak and restless. I dragged around the house with not enough strength to do my daily tasks. I worried a lot, and this disturbed state of mind reacted on my health.

"I had often read of Cardui, so I thought I would try it. I soon began to improve after I had taken Cardui for a while.

"It was astonishing how much I picked up. I slept better, my appetite improved, and that awful dragging-down feeling left me. I was so much better that I continued taking Cardui until I felt perfectly well."

you can't substitute adjectives for engineering

DeSoto

When somebody invents a car that will run on superlative adjectives, the motoring millennium will surely be with us. Up to date, however, the efforts to substitute adjectives for engineering have been such dismal failures that the verbally-operated car still seems a long way off.

So until the "hot-air" motor is perfected, the Chrysler-built De Soto Six will continue to depend on its engineering and leave the adjectives to the other fellow.

Because it is typically Chrysler-engineered, De Soto Six already has achieved an admirable record of economy and durability, and has earned the praise of thousands of owners by its gratifying performance, its handling ease and its low cost of operation and maintenance.

In addition to its ability to perform and keep on performing, it is handsome and comfortable. Chrysler-designed brakes give it exceptional safety.

Here is a six-cylinder car priced well below $1,000 that inspires real pride of ownership. The purchase of a De Soto Six is the kind of economy dictated by wisdom and not necessity.

Before you take a demonstration just ask yourself what a motor car ought to do. You will find that De Soto Six exceeds all your expectations.

A FIVE-YEAR-OLD FORECAST MORE THAN REALIZED

JUNE 7 1924

"+ + + the Chrysler is, in reality, the first step in the general revision of motor car design which is bound to follow its advent. + + + For it is an entirely new type of car, built on a new kind of engineering, which produces results radically different from any heretofore registered in the industry."

CHRYSLER'S INFLUENCE ON YOUR CAR

It has become an axiom of the motor car industry that much of what comes tomorrow originates in what Chrysler engineering does today.

For five years, Chrysler has been the acknowledged leader in thrilling performance. For five years, Chrysler has led the way in individuality and modern smartness of design.

Those in possession of the facts know that there is scarcely a motor car today that does not owe some improvement in its make-up to Chrysler—and has not become a better car by reason of Chrysler engineering achievement.

Emulation is a nice compliment to Chrysler leadership, of course. But the mere copying of features cannot equal the complete Chrysler results.

To you who are about to choose a new car, a natural question arises: Why not enjoy a Chrysler itself, so long as Chrysler smartness, comfort, performance and quality are the goals to which other cars are striving? Let us show you in a test of your own choosing the superiority of Chrysler to anything aspiring to compete with Chrysler.

At a recent meeting of the minister's circle it was decided to hold union meetings each Sunday night beginning June 16, and continuing through September 11. Plans are under way for these services to be held in the square, otherwise they will be held in the churches and no pastor will preach at his own church. Rev. J. H. Holder was elected president of the circle and Rev. R. L. McLeod, secretary.

Kitchen Shower for Bride-to-Be.

Miss Nannie Lou Hamilton, attractive bride-to-be, was honored at a kitchen shower given Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Nan McCormick.

As the guests arrived they were given dainty tea towels to hem. After everyone had arrived Ed and Lee, twin sons of Mrs. McCormick, brought in a huge basket filled with the loveliest and most useful of kitchen utensils. This they presented to the delighted bride-elect. When everything had been duly examined over and admired the hostess served a refreshing ice and sandwiches. Mrs. H. K. Barwick graciously assisted in entertaining the guests.

Miss Hamilton was gowned for the occasion in a beautiful lavender ensemble.

Enjoy Sunrise Breakfast.

The young people of the Methodist church, together with some of their friends from the other churches, had the rather unusual pleasure of a sunrise breakfast Tuesday morning at Whitaker's lake. Appetites, whetted by the fresh morning air, made the simple meal seem unusually delicious, after which an inspiring devotional service was held by Dr. J. A. Smith, there in the beautiful grove surrounding the lake.

Mrs. R. F. Matthews was ably assisted in directing the affair by Mesdames W. E. Jackson and George Darby.

Children Have Party.

The children of the Methodist Sunday School enjoyed an interesting party Saturday afternoon in the basement of the church.

A number of novel games, songs and contests were engaged in by two rival teams, the reds and the blues, the reds being declared victors.

Dr. J. A. Smith, in charge of the activities, proved that he is as excellent a sportsman as he is a preacher. He was ably assisted by his very attractive wife.

While ice cream cones were served to the fifty-eight children present, Dr. Smith made them a very helpful short talk. Plans were made for three afternoon meetings with the children this week.

Who Pays ?

You who believe advertising is too expensive to justify its returns, listen to this:

Twenty-eight years ago the makers of a watch produced a cumbersome but accurate article, priced $1.50. Without advertising, they sold that first year 12,000. The next year, with a little tentative advertising, they sold 87,000. Encouraged, they increased the factory and distribution, reduced the size of the watch, priced it $1.00, made a reasonable advertising appropriation—and sold 485,000.

When the makers of a famous camera began advertising thirty years ago, they made one camera which took a 2½-inch picture, and sold at $25.00. In 1917, that time of the distressing upward trend of prices, these people made a better camera that sold for $10.

Who pays for the advertising? Or does the advertising pay for itself?

And what good advertising executed in attractive print did for the watch and the camera, it can do in some measure for your product.
